

REGISTRATION LINK**

Digitalisation, new technologies, smarter buildings: what are the new areas of development for the European installation sector?
13h30-15h00 CET

- Introduction

GCP Europe President

- The key role of installers in EPBD implementation and rollout of smart and efficient buildings

MEP Sean Kelly (Ireland, EPP) – pre-recorded message

- The electrical and mechanical sectors' takes on contributing to the green and digital agenda

Sean Downey, Director at ME&BSCA (Ireland): Update on developments in innovation and digital adoption in Ireland

Troels Blicher Danielsen, Administrative Director at Tekniq (Denmark): Data is the new gold

Bernhard Dürheimer, Vice President at BTGA (Germany): The sustainability of buildings is becoming increasingly important

Casto Cañavate, Marketing Manager at KNX: The future landscape for HVAC integration with Energy Management

Q&A and conclusion

Julie Beaufils, EuropeOn General Secretary

[30 minutes break]

Enabling the deployment of smart buildings with new skills and jobs 15h30-17h00 CET

- Introduction

EuropeOn President

- Views from the EU Commission: Green skills: Key to ensure a successful and fair transition

Tim Schreiber, Policy Officer at EU Commission's Directorate-General for Employment, Social Affairs & Inclusion

- The electrical and mechanical sectors' takes on the skills and jobs of tomorrow: going beyond installation

Dani Gerber, electrical apprentice (Switzerland): a young worker's perspective

Claudia Reiner, CEO at Caris & Reiner and vice president at Techniek Nederland, and Jan Cromwijk, Project coordinator at ISSO (research institute): Developing green skills in the Dutch construction sector and our involvement in EU's project BUILD UP Skills

Alexander Neuhäuser, Deputy Managing Director at ZVEH (Germany): Electro-technician for building system integration: a new career and a new apprenticeship

Pär Lundström, Senior Policy Advisor at Installatörsföretagen (Sweden): Skills in a Circular Economy

- Q&A and conclusion

Claire Grossmann, GCP Europe General Secretary